ADMINISTRATORS ATTEND LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Administrators of the South Bahamas Conference joined over 160 new administrators in the Inter-American Division of Seventh-day Adventists at a leadership conference in Santo Domingo during February 13 - February 15. This group represented 34 countries. Pastor Israel Leito, President of the Inter-American Division, and other presenters, guided the new leaders through a panorama of policies and counsels as the attendees with apt interest, recorded the presentations.

The new administrators were encouraged to strive for excellence as they make Christ the centre of each activity. The experience was a rich and rewarding one as leaders left recharged and recommitted to the continuation of God's work.

Attending from the South Bahamas Conference were, Pastors Paul Scavella and Peter Joseph, president and executive secretary respectively.

SOUTH BAHAMAS CONFERENCE EXECUTIVES HONOURED

Wednesday, February 2, 2011 was historic for both the South Bahamas Conference and the Soaring Orators of Johnson Park Toastmasters Club. It was on that day the newest honorary members, Pastors Paul Scavella, Peter Joseph, Elder C. Melvin Lewis and host pastor, Michael Toote were pinned. The president of the club, TM Rory Major, also presented Pastor Scavella with the Toastmasters International Communication & Achievement Award on behalf of the Soaring Orators. This special honor was bestowed on him for his leadership achievements in the church. This grand occasion was overwhelmingly supported by Soaring Orators and guests.

The club is passionate about service and training. Each week the members are prepared for excellent service to our churches and the wider community. We invite members of this great South Bahamas Conference to support the club, we urge you to join our nation builders as we grapple with social ills.

We encourage our members to worship Christ and operate by His principles as they hone in skills that can equip them for greater exploits in His service.

Johnson Park Welcomes Assistant Commissioner of Police

Sunday, February 13 marked an impressive show of the Johnson Park Pathfinders as 50 members queued at the Flagpole fully regaled in Class A uniforms and awaited the arrival of the Assistant Commissioner of Police, John Ferguson.

Commissioner. A subsequent drill demonstration was even more delightful as he watched in amazement. "Some of these drills I have never seen before," he remarked. He then congratulated the drill squad for moving with brilliant precision.

Boasting his Pathfinder pin presented at the Pathfinders' 60th Anniversary Service, he spoke highly of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and more specifically the Pathfinder Club.

in the Eager Beavers and Little Lambs during his brief visit.

The Pathfinders were excited about his presentation and could not resist the many questions directed at the Assistant Commissioner. Though confronted with time constraint, he accommodated many pathfinders and promised them a return visit.

The visit continued with Mr. Ferguson giving an inspirational and timely speech on issues affecting young persons.

His call to action was a very encouraging one. He stated that the Pathfinder Club has the model for youth service not only here in The Bahamas, but throughout the region. He encouraged the group to maintain their reputation as great examples and leaders in the community. He highlighted some of the leadership qualities he observed

It was truly a historic and educational experience as the Johnson Park Pathfinders Club showed appreciation to Assistant Commissioner, John Ferguson.
